Why Our Wander-Filled Life?

Grant and Bonnie launched Our Wander-Filled Life in June 2016 and have spent the last three years growing the blog, adding content from their travels and building an audience.

Our Wander-Filled Life, member of the International Travel Writers Alliance, covers couples' travel on a budget throughout the US and the world, as well as gear, trip planning and utilizing frequent traveler points.

Grant and Bonnie specialize in making travel affordable for average couples. They cruise, RV, road trip and backpack all over the world.

They provide real, actionable advice to average travelers on great places to make the most of limited vacation time and money.

If Grant and Bonnie can see the world on a teacher's salary, so can everyone else!
